

The Clinically Rich Intensive Teacher Institute (CR-ITI)
 Participating Institutions of Higher Education

The Clinically Rich Intensive Teacher Institute’s main initiative is to provide English Language Learners with highly qualified and certified teachers in the areas of English as a New Language and Bilingual Education. This Institute is subsidized by a New York State Education Department grant, which offers a $300/credit tuition discount towards advanced certificate programs in English as a New Language and Bilingual Education for current teachers seeking to earn an additional license. There is a variety of participating institutions of higher education currently accepting applications for January 2019.

For questions, email JCutuli@schools.nyc.gov

College/University	Available Program(s)	Program Flyers
Adelphi University	ENL/Bilingual	Click here for more information
Fordham University	ENL/Bilingual	Click here for more information
Mercy College	ENL	Click here for more information
St. Johns University	ENL/Bilingual	Click here for more information
Teacher’s College	Bilingual	Click here for more information